Canton Museum of Art appreciates the operating, exhibition, and programming support in part from...

all at the Canton Museum of Art was quite an energizing and busy time for all. Our Three Voices exhibition opened to a fantastic reception, as the all-Ohio artist representation of Judi Brandon, Leslie Shiel, and Carol Snyder brought followers—and collectors—from around the state. Their emotion-filled art captivated viewers as well as started discussions about how art has the power to capture feelings and resolve conflicts.

That said, Three Voices was the inspiration for our new “Art for Health and Healing Program” here at CMA, in partnership with Stark County Mental Health & Addiction Recovery. The program starts in December, as individuals from Domestic Violence Project, Child & Adolescent Behavioral Health, CommQuest, and other community service organizations will use the expressive power of art as a means of therapy and well being. CMA exhibits and personalized art experience workshops will be used alongside certified art therapists and other professionals to create a healing experience.

Christkindl Dazzles for the 45th Year

Visitors from far and wide turned out for the 45th Annual Christkindl Markt, November 11 - 13th here at the Museum and Cultural Center for the Arts. Transformed into a magical holiday land, shoppers filled all three days to purchase works created by over 100 artisans from across the country.

Christkindl Markt remains one of the Museum’s top fundraisers, and we thank all of our volunteers and members from Canton Fine Arts Associates for planning and mounting this major event each year. We are also thankful for all of the visitors who fill the Markt and visit Canton for this holiday tradition—and grow cultural tourism for our city!

Museum To Go Inside the Schools

Over the last two months, the Museum introduced its new Museum To Go program to schools throughout Stark County. As of this writing, nearly 40 classes (675 students) have experienced this unique virtual tour of an exhibit and a guided, hands-on art experience rooted in language arts, science, math, and social studies curriculum.

By the end of the season we anticipate the program will provide inspiring art instruction to nearly 2,000 students. Our thanks to ArtsInStark and the Ohio Arts Council for their support of this program for our community.

Welcome to a Fantastic Journey in Dream Worlds

Dream Worlds: The Art of Imaginative Realism is our featured exhibit for the winter season, and it promises to be an amazing journey. Experience new worlds and captivating stories of the past, present, and future—of what might have been or what may yet come—from celebrated artists working in fantasy realms of film, television, gaming, theatre, and more.

Rooted in imaginative elements from early European art movements through Realism and Surrealism (think Hieronymus Bosch, Jan van Eyck, and Salvador Dalí, to name a few), the works in Dream Worlds captivate. And as a recognized art movement in museums and galleries, Dream Worlds makes art accessible to many audiences.

Join us in the Galleries—and in Classes!

Along with amazing exhibits, our Winter Classes are underway and promise to unlock, or invigorate, your creativity. Join us at the Museum this season and be inspired ... to learn, to dream, to celebrate, to share an emotional connection ... to discover why we are “Where Art Meets Life.” Thank you for your support as members, as donors, and as a community.

Voices from Our Audience in the Galleries & Online
Tim Carmany and Dyanne Williams, with their collaborative collage piece “Steve McCurry’s Afghan Girl” were voted the 2016 winners of the Canton Arts District All-Stars exhibition at the November 4 Canton First Friday event, chosen by votes from the 400+ audience. This year’s All-Stars competition attracted works from over 75 participating artists.

Collaborating on this piece seemed like a natural fit. Tim and Dyanne are both actors-turned-artists, have both spent time in Los Angeles, and both have family here in Ohio. Their similar backgrounds helped to bring them together for this project. “Dyanne’s attention to detail and my quick layering were a good match,” said Tim, “and we found ourselves beginning to love the project.” Dyanne, having always admired Steve McCurry’s photograph, “Afghan Girl,” was excited to work on this piece, commenting that “…creating that image using National Geographic (magazines) as the material was kismet.”

As the winning artists, Tim and Dyanne will receive an extensive media promo package including a feature ARTe e-blast to thousands of subscribers, an Artist Profile in About Magazine, a feature article on the ArtsInStark Blog, and other media opportunities. In addition, Tim and Dyanne will receive a 2017 Exhibition at ArtsInStark’s Avenue Arts along with giftcards to nine downtown Canton restaurants. Thanks to our community!

The Canton HeART Guild is a modern and dynamic volunteer group founded by CMA Second Vice President, Lindsay Zimmerman. These fun and energetic volunteers are dedicated to promoting events and exhibitions at the Canton Museum of Art. Every year the Canton HeART Guild plans and organizes the rooftop gARTen fundraiser with amazing cuisine and happenings. Last August, a sold-out crowd celebrated with mesmerizing entertainment and decor inspired by the famous Hieronymus Bosch painting, The Garden of Earthly Delights.

In addition to being one of the most talked about parties of the summer, gARTen of eARTly Delights raised thousands of dollars for CMA exhibitions and education programming. As planning for the 2017 event begins, the Canton HeART Guild continues to grow with new and innovative ideas bringing a fresh perspective to fundraising and connecting CMA to new community members in Canton and Stark County.

Dream Worlds: The Art of Imaginative Realism assembles award-winning artists from around the country who play a pivotal role in the art of cinema, television, set design, 3D animation, gaming, and costume design—pushing the boundaries of contemporary realism through the guise of surrealism.

Many of the works on display have a fundamental component of both the fine art world and the commercial art industry. This exhibition is certain to entertain and educate all ages with a journey through the art of imaginative realism—a journey that may inspire viewers to explore their own creativity and storytelling ability through art. Dream Worlds is produced with CMA guest-curatorial and Canton native, Chris Seaman, an award-winning artist-illustrator. Imaginative Realism takes viewers on fantastic journeys through art, creating captivating stories of the past, present, and future—of what might have been, what might be, or what may yet come.

Renowned artist/illustrator/author James Gurney (Dinotopia, National Geographic, How to Paint What Doesn’t Exist) defines “Imaginative Realism” as the realistic depiction of something that one can only imagine. It is the blending of observation in life and the imagination that allows artists to clearly express fantastical worlds, using techniques ranging from classical painting, illustration, and sculpting to photography and cutting-edge graphic manipulation. As a fine art movement across the world, rooted in late 18th century imaginative elements in European art movements and visions of contemporary realist art, Imaginative Realism must be experienced up close and in person to fully appreciate the aesthetics and engage with stories in each work of art.

The artistic movement of Imaginative Realism has a hold on almost all facets of our entertainment and continues to grow. Working artists/illustrators are now at the pinnacle of pop culture with record-breaking results, and the Imaginative Realism genre as a movement in a fine art is expanding exponentially. The visual storyteller has had a crucial role in American society and culture for the last 100 years, capturing worlds old and new, redefining past and present, and visualizing what may exist just out of sight.

The exhibition features over 65 works of art by over 20 artists - including Aaron Miller, Ania Mohrbacher, Christopher Burdett, Craig Maher, Dan Chudzinski, Donato Giancola, Elisabeth Alba, Eric Wilkerson, and more. Each artist is collected for their accomplishments in the art world.
About the Curator

Chris Seaman is a graduate of McKinley High School and attended the Columbus College of Art and Design, where he earned his Bachelor of Fine Arts in Illustration. His imaginative work can be seen across video and gaming genres with Skylanders, Dungeons & Dragons, World of Warcraft, Harry Potter, Hearthstone, Pathfinder, and Magic the Gathering. He has co-written and illustrated three fantasy-themed art instruction books, and is a contributor to Imagine FX Magazine.

In 2015 Chris’ personal work appeared in the group show Wild About Harryhausen at the Merry Karnowsky Gallery (Los Angeles, CA). In 2014 his noncommissioned work, “Beaute’ et la Bête” (on view here in Dream Worlds) had the honor of being included in the Spectrum Fantastic Art III exhibit at the Society of Illustrators (New York, NY). That same year he was also awarded a certificate of merit from both ARC Salon and the Society of Illustrators Los Angeles for outstanding works. In 2013 Chris’ work appeared in the group art show, ZOMBIE, at Last Rites Gallery (New York, NY). And in 2012 he was featured in a solo exhibit at the Canton Museum of Art with Epic Warriors of the Fantastic. His Mother, Ronda Seaman, owns IKON IMAGES: Illustration Gallery in the Downtown Canton Arts District.

The flames are released. The heat rises and settles over the pieces in the kiln, freezing them in their current forms. For better or worse, they are now frozen in fire. Not all pieces will survive this process and the artist must choose the piece which, in their eyes, has met perfection.

The Frozen in Fire exhibition explores the insight of artists being satisfied with their work. Is the pot just a container to hold things or does it hold ideas? Each vessel is meant to be looked at, appreciated and contemplated. The exhibition features ceramic works by celebrated artists: Jack Earl, Janis Mars Wunderlich, Richard Schneider, Tom Radca, Robert Pulley, Adrian Saxe, Toshiko Takaezu, and others.

There are many different ways in which a vessel can be approached aesthetically – all of which are Frozen in Fire.

I am making pots for art’s sake, God’s sake, the future generations and — by present indications — for my own satisfaction, but when I’m gone, my work will be prized, honored and cherished.

NEWS FROM THE PERMANENT COLLECTION

NEW M.C. Escher Acquisition: Metamorphosis II

We’re excited to announce a recent anonymous gift of “Metamorphosis II” — a woodcut by M. C. Escher. This piece is on display in the museum lobby until the Spring of 2017. Maurits Cornelis Escher (1898 – 1972) is one of the world’s most famous graphic artists. He is most famous for his so-called impossible constructions including his masterpieces “Metamorphosis I” and “Metamorphosis II” which were printed in 1939/40. The concept of “Metamorphosis II” is to morph one image into a tessellated pattern and then slowly alter that pattern until it eventually becomes a new image. The process begins left to right with the word metamorphose (the Dutch form of the metamorphosis). This grid then becomes a black and white checkered pattern, which then becomes tessellations of reptiles, a honeycomb, insects, fish, birds and a pattern of three-dimensional blocks and red tops.

These blocks then become the architecture of the Italian coastal town of Atrani. In this image Atrani is linked by a bridge to a tower in the water, which is actually a rook piece from a chess set. There are other chess pieces in the water and the water becomes a chess board. The chess board leads to a checkered wall, which then returns to the word metamorphose.

Early in Escher’s career he drew inspiration from nature, making studies of insects, landscapes, and plants - all of which he reused as details in his artworks. Escher made 448 mathematically inspired woodcuts, lithographs, woodcuts, and wood engravings, as well as over 2000 drawings and sketches.

GETTING AROUND

The Museum’s main entrance is from the Market Avenue parking area. Wheelchair accessible parking is located behind the Cultural Center for the Arts; patrons may enter the Museum from the Great Court.

THE MUSEUM SHOP: ART OF OHIO HANDS

Our goal is to help complete the visitor experience by offering unique and unusual works by Ohio artists in functional ceramics, jewelry, textiles, handmade cards and more … with prices to fit every budget. A fine selection of Museum products and exhibition catalogs are also available. All proceeds benefit the Canton Museum of Art.

PHOTOGRAPHY, FOOD & DRINK

Photography is not allowed in our galleries to protect artists’ copyrights, and because light exposure can hurt works of art. We do not allow food or drink in the galleries to assure the protection of visiting works and our collection. The Canton Museum of Art follows standards set by the American Alliance of Museums.

WHY WE ASK YOU NOT TO TOUCH

Many works of art are very fragile. Unintentional damage may result from gesturing too close to a work of art, and the natural oils on human hands can cause serious damage over time. Please be careful — works of art, like people, are unique and irreplaceable. Help us preserve your Museum’s collection: please do not touch.

MEETINGS AND PARTIES — Let CMA Help You Plan a Perfect Event

The Museum’s Marie & Erv Wilkof Courtyard is an ideal meeting and event space enjoyed by thousands of people throughout the year — birthdays, weddings, corporate meetings and more. For rental information on this and other areas of the Museum, contact Becky DeHart at 330.453.7666 ext. 104.
